THE RELATIONSHIP

Dedicated support since 2015

KC & The Sunshine Band has worked with Deep South Productions since 2015. The band's tour and production manager, Rick Raymond, describes DSP as a trusted partner and a valuable part of the team.

DSP owns and maintains custom-designed equipment built and dedicated for the group's sole use on its shows. When the tour needs additional equipment, personnel, or trucking, Raymond says the DSP team is willing to jump in—wherever the request takes them.

WHAT THE PARTNERSHIP INCLUDES

A dedicated production resource

Custom-designed equipment owned and maintained by DSP for the group's sole use on its shows.

Additional equipment, personnel, and trucking can be provided in response to tour needs and location.

This summary stays within the details Raymond provided; specific inventory, tour dates, and locations are not added.

Ready when the tour needs more.

The value of a touring partner is not just the gear on the truck. It is the ability to support the group with the right people and additional resources when the request changes.

01 Custom equipment dedicated to the group

Raymond says DSP owns and maintains custom-designed equipment dedicated to KC & The Sunshine Band's shows.

02 Additional support when requested

The team is willing to add equipment, personnel, and trucking when needed, regardless of the request or location.

03 A trusted part of the tour team

Raymond describes DSP as a valuable member of the KCSB team and says the relationship is expected to continue.
